“ It’s been hard finding the words to say goodbye to you. You’re one of my favorite people, even more unique than your name. You were so kind to me at a time when life wasn’t. I don’t know how I would’ve gotten through it all without you and I’ll never forget it. I’m heart broken that we’ll never speak again. I only hope you know how special you are to me. My condolences to your family and everyone else who loved you. I’ll keep you in my heart and my prayers until we meet again. ❤️

“ I never said I love enough. I wish that I could rewind time. I'd hug you a little longer, I say that love you more, and I'd make you take more pictures with me. I never imagined this day would come. I never thought that goodbye would last forever. I never thought that this world would come to an end so soon. Losing a sibling is like losing a piece of myself. Losing you hurts so bad. Please remember us in the next life, your family. We love you & May God bless you.
