“ To my Amir, my 4th eldest grandchild. I remember this little tiny soul and was there when you entered this world. Shoulders so broad it took several nurses straddling over Mom to get you out. You entered into this world what's the light so bright! We were so happy that you were healthy. I always encouraged you to want greater and do more than what we ever did to make us proud. You did one thing that I wanted you to do first was to graduate from high school when you listen you graduated with high scores, which showed me that you were capable of greatness. I was so proud of you. As soon as they called your name, we were screaming from the bleachers. We were so happy that day. I was so happy we had the opportunity to go to Florida together one of our first trips. One of your first on a airplane was with Blue and myself when we went to the see see your cousin play at a professional Buccaneers game. We was so hyped you had so much fun and now you have made me a great grandmother to a beautiful baby girl. I want to thank Allah for your beautiful spirit and leaving me with great memories. I will forever miss seeing those wide shoulders come through no matter how much weight you lost. Your shoulders were always brought, and it was always to carry the weight of this world. I am so sorry that I am typing this in my lost you but only in this lifetime because I will see you again. “Indeed we belong to Allah and indeed we will return” No so may die, except with our last permission at a predestine time. And whoever desires the reward of this world, we will give him, therefore, and whoever desires the reward of him hereafter, we will give him therefore. And we will reward the grateful” I will forever keep my grandson in my heart. Nothing can erase you from my memory. I love you. Grandmom

اللهم اغفر له وارحمه، وعافه واعف عنه، وأكرم نزله، ووسع مدخله، واغسله بالماء والثلج والبرد، ونقه من الخطايا كما ينقى الثوب الأبيض من الدنس، وأبدله دارًا خيرًا من داره، وأهلًا خيرًا من أهله، وأدخله الجنة، وأعذه من عذاب القبر ومن عذاب النار.

"O Allah, forgive them and have mercy on them, pardon them and grant them ease. Honor their dwelling place and expand their entrance. Wash them with water, snow, and ice, and cleanse them of their sins as a white garment is cleansed of dirt. Replace their home with a better home, and their family with a better family. Admit them into Paradise and protect them from the punishment of the grave and the torment of the Fire."

Jessica May Allah grant Amir mercy and a place in Jannah. I love you all.

To my Amir, my fourth eldest grandchild,

I remember the tiny soul you once were and being there when you entered this world. Your shoulders were so broad that it took several nurses straddling over Mom to help bring you into the world. You came into this life with such a bright light! We were overjoyed that you were healthy.

I always encouraged you to dream bigger and achieve more than we ever did, to make us proud. One of my biggest hopes was for you to graduate from high school, and you listened, you not only graduated but did so with high scores, proving your capability for greatness. I was so proud of you. As soon as they called your name, we were screaming from the bleachers, overflowing with happiness on that special day.

I cherish so many memories another that stands out is our trip to Florida, one of your first times on an airplane, with Blue and me. We traveled to see your cousin play in a professional Buccaneers game, and we were so hyped! You had so much fun, and now, you have made me a great-grandmother to a beautiful baby girl. We promise to take care of your beautiful legacy. She is too young to remember but I will always remind her of your beautiful funny light.

I thank Allah for your beautiful spirit and the precious memories you've left me with. I will forever miss seeing those broad shoulders walk through the door, no matter how much weight you lost, those shoulders were always strong enough to carry the weight of this world.

I am so sorry that I have to type this in my loss of you, but only in this lifetime, because I know I will see you again.

"Indeed, we belong to Allah, and indeed, to Him we will return."

"No soul may die except with Allah's permission at a predestined time. And whoever desires the reward of this world, We will grant it to them; and whoever desires the reward of the Hereafter, We will grant it to them. And We will reward the grateful."

I will forever keep my grandson in my heart. Nothing can erase you from my memory. I love you.

Carrying His Light

*My dearest daughter Jessica, strong and true,
A mother's love will see you through.
Though sorrow weighs upon your heart,
His light in you will never part.*

*The stars still shine, the sun still glows,
Through you, his love forever flows.
In every laugh, in every sigh,
His spirit soars, it won't say goodbye.*

*Carry his light, let it shine bright,
Through darkest days and endless night.
He walks beside you, hand in hand,
A love eternal, forever will stand.*

*Though tears may fall, though time moves on,
His love in you is never gone.
Stand strong, my love, embrace the day,
His light will guide you all the way. Together, my love, we'll get through this,*

*Through pain and sorrow, through all we miss.
And just know, you'll never bear this alone,
For I am here, your heart, your home*

Love Mom
