“ Aunty Brenda,

I love you, I remember talks about family , being a good person in life, birthday calls and sharing stories about our pets. You shared life lessons on your journey and presented your authenticity with whoever would listen. Your excitement and enthusiasm in every moment will be missed. Thank you for believing in me and setting a positive example for others.

I Love you Aunt Brenda

“ Aunt Brenda,
You will be greatly missed. You have left a void in my heart that only God can fill. I am reminded of all the times throughout my life that you visited us in North Carolina. You always made me laugh and you always told me how proud you were of me. I love you now and you will always be in my heart.
Rest easy my dear Aunt.

“ My heart is very heavy this morning with the pain of losing my "big sister". I know this pain will never completely go away. But over time, it will get better. As I reflect back on the memories of the life we shared growing up, it causes a smile to come upon my face. Especially when I think of the many red clay mud pies we made & baked in the sun. I will miss our early (4AM) Sunday morning sharing of prayers & scriptures to start the week off right.

The Word let's us know that God with His caring love, knows just how much we can bear. He promised He would not put more on us than we can bear. He kept that promise with Brenda. As He looked down from heaven each day, He saw the pain in her body and the weariness upon her face. He saw that those "21 steps" going up & down to her apartment each day were getting harder & harder to climb. So with outstretched arms, God transitioned her to a much better place. There's no more pain, no more tears and no more steps to climb. I am so thankful because that's the kind of God He is! So now Brenda is @ rest. I loved her. But God loved her best.

"Earth has no sorrow, that Heaven can not heal".

Cousin I will always remember the good times we had at Uncle Hubert's house. We didn't talk often but when we did it was great to reminisce of our times together. I thank God for you being in my life

I will miss Brenda and her early morning phone calls since both of us didn't really sleep that well, we laughed and carried on through the phone line all hours of the night!!! we became quick friends since we had a lot of things in common. I will really miss what would've been with my friend Brenda. May you rest in peace, my friend and not suffer anymore 🌈🌈
