

Christen Edward Latham

January 8, 1987 - November 17, 2012

Christen E. Latham

We weren't prepared to let you go, so soon.

Too full of life to be taken away, too soon.

Your absence leaves a hole in our souls,

Your memory we will forever cherish in our Hearts.

Christen Edward Latham, also known as "C-Lay" or "Breeze," was born Thursday, January 8, 1987, in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, son of Andrea Denise Latham and the late James Edward Kent Sr.

Christen was a very ambitious and outspoken young man, standing by his convictions. His smile could light up the world. Among his life passions were doing things with his devoted companion Tyeshia and their two children, Isaiah and Samyah; basketball and football, both of which he participated in as a child; grilling, cooking and being around family.

He attended Susquehanna Township High School where he developed into the man we all grew to love. He eventually found his career as a Foreman at Power Component Systems, Inc.

Christen was preceded in death by his son, Christen Edward Latham Jr.; his father, James Edward Kent Sr.; his paternal grandmother, Dorothy Mae

Latham-Spencer; his uncle, John D. Latham; his nephew, Trussaine Andrew Silver III; and his godmother, Rosalie Sutton.

On the morning of Saturday, November 17, 2012, Christen was called home. He leaves to cherish his memory two beautiful children, Isaiah and Samyah Latham; his loving companion, Tyeshia Dykes, all of Harrisburg; his mother, Andrea D. Latham of Steelton, PA; his sister, Patrice M. Latham; brother, Tracy D. Latham; his special and loving aunt, Daisy M. Latham-Williams (Marvin); his uncles, Paul Armstrong (Linda), Lee A. Latham (Kristine), all of Harrisburg, Melvin Latham (Leslie) of York, PA; niece, Larana Latham; nephews, Tracy L. Latham, Trayvon Latham, Traquan Latham and Jehmale Latham, all of Harrisburg; godparents, Lawrence E. Banks of Harrisburg, and Charles Sutton of Steelton.

Lovingly Submitted, The Family
