“ Lois... what can I say that I haven't already said to you as I sat by your bedside all these years. You were a fighter and one of the strongest women I knew. We used to sit and talk for hours, laughing and trading the similarities of our stories about the guys. I would come over and play music for you all the time. It filled my heart with joy to watch as you reacted to certain songs. I would show you pictures and watch as you studied each of them carefully. I have so many memories that I will forever cherish. Heaven has gained a sweet angel. Sending my heartfelt love to you in heaven! Love you always - Tara
