

DeWitt Tyrone Holiday

October 11, 1957 - May 2, 2025

DeWitt Tyrone Holiday, son of the late DeWitt Gregory Livingston Holiday and the late Mary Lee Dawkins Coleman Holiday, was born Friday, October 11, 1957, in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, and resided in Harrisburg.

Educated in the Harrisburg School District, his employment path began at an early age, starting with Daddy in his janitorial service business. Daddy encouraged him to learn more than one trade, and that he did. He was a self-taught, gifted and anointed of the Lord master mechanic employed by many auto shops. He loved working on and repairing cars, radios, vacuums, etc.; anything with moving parts or a motor. Additionally, DeWitt was a painter, cook, maintenance man, brick mason, lawncare professional and was employed with Hershey Foods Corporation for about eleven years.

DeWitt loved fishing, music, crabs, singing, dancing, western and suspense movies as well as church.

On Friday, May 2, 2025, DeWitt Tyrone Holiday transitioned from this life at sixty-seven years of age to join in eternal life his parents; his spouse, Wendy Rebecca Warren Holiday; and his granddaughter, Shantavia McLean.

Many loving memories will be cherished by his son, Gerwan Hill Holiday (Kisha) of Hamilton, Ohio; stepson, Tayvain L. Warren (Lisa) of Harrisburg, PA; sister, Fayette Holiday Thompson (John) of North Carolina; brother, Jerome Livingston Holiday of North Carolina; niece, Nina Holiday Shepherd of New York; cousins, Patricia Dawkins Johnson Carter and the entire extended Monessen, Pennsylvania Family; and a host of family and friends to remember him.

“ To Fayette, John, and Family,

We are so sorry for your loss. Dewitt was a friendly, kind, caring, and loving person. Whenever we needed help with our Lincoln vehicle when he lived in NC, he offered his help. Truly we will miss his laughter and big smile. God loved him more than we could ever imagine, so God has called him home to take his rest. You and your family are in our hearts and prayers.

*Love,
Bishop Hadley & Family*
