The Obituary

Deaconess Emma L. Hughes

“For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him.”

I Thessalonians 4:14

Emma Lee Hughes, daughter of the late John Seigle and the late Bessie Mae Hinton, was born Thursday, August 11, 1932, in Rock Hill, SC.

Upon relocating to Steelton, PA, Emma completed her educational requirements at the William Penn High School and retired from the Pennsylvania Department of Motor Vehicles.

As a longtime member of The First Baptist Church of Steelton, Emma demonstrated her love of God and her steadfast faith. She served with the Deaconess, Choir, Flower Club and Hospitality Ministries, Praise Team, as Chairlady of the All-Church Tea for many years, President of the Golden Rod Missionaries, President of the Senior Citizens Guild as well as numerous other committees. She attended Sunday School, Prayer Meetings, Bible Study and Noonday Prayer. In the community, she was affiliated with Jump Street, an organization which supports community and economic development through the world of art, the Red Hat Society and the Steelton Senior Center. This sociable, talented lady of impeccable taste and style enjoyed modeling, acting in plays, crafting and painting.

In her eighty-third year, on Friday, December 4, 2015, Deaconess Hughes exchanged mortality for immortality with her Lord and Savior Jesus Christ joining in eternal life her parents, first husband, Alan Jenkins, sister, Johnie Mae Young, and daughter, Faye Hughes.

Deaconess Hughes leaves not to mourn her passing, but to celebrate her life: her husband, Deacon James Hughes of Steelton, PA; her children, John Seigle of Steelton, Phyllis Chisolm, Jairus, Dennis and Aaron Hughes, all of Harrisburg, PA; two brothers, William Seigle of South Carolina, and Rev. Robert Bailey of Lancaster, PA; four granddaughters, three great grandchildren, other relatives and many friends.
