“ I remember Mr. Harry fondly while working at the Crooked Hill Post Office on the night shit. He would come in with his military hat on and his lunch bucket and was such a jokester. I'm so glad that I got to know him and listened to his wisdom about life, his family and the job. He spoke of all of his children with a smile and told a story about each one of them. May God continue to bless you with his memory and know that he loved you all dearly. Sending condolences from my family to all of you. RIP Mr. Harry
