

Joetta Ardelia King

July 21, 1967 - January 26, 2012

Joetta was born Friday, July 21, 1967, in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, daughter of Edna King Norman and the late Edward Norman.

A graduate of John Harris High School, she pursued further career preparation and training at The Academy of Medical Arts and Business. Thereafter, she accepted employment with the Pennsylvania Higher Education Assistance Agency (PHEAA). Joetta enjoyed life and expressed her creativity through painting, photography, dancing, shopping and sewing, and she sought after God's teachings and lessons on Christian living and salvation through the reading of her Bible.

In Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, on Thursday, January 26, 2012, Joetta completed her earthly journey entering eternal life.

Joetta will be sorrowfully missed but lovingly remembered by her mother, Edna King Norman; one daughter, Jacey King of Steelton, Pennsylvania; her siblings, Tracey Hammonds and her husband Benjamin of Baltimore, Maryland, Edward King of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, Heather Thomas and husband David, Faithe Hamani and her husband Nouri, Dawn Scott and husband Robert, all of Steelton, Kim King of Oberlin, Pennsylvania; a devoted uncle, Raymond King, who remained by her beside throughout her illness; nieces, nephews, other relatives and friends.

Cemetery Details

Paxtang Cemetery

401 Kelso St.
Harrisburg, PA 17111