

Lloyd Jackson

February 28, 1926 - February 4, 2012

Lloyd Jackson was born Sunday, February 28, 1926, son of the late Robert Jackson and the late Florence Washington Jackson, in Tunstall, Virginia, and received his formal education in Virginia.

As a member of Rose of Sharon Baptist Church, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, he served with the Usher Ministry. He retired from Steelton-Highspire High School; and, leisurely, Lloyd enjoyed cooking, walking his dog and 'laid-back' sitting on his porch.

On Saturday, February 4, 2012, in his eighty-fifty year, at the Golden Living Center, Camp Hill, Pennsylvania, Lloyd passed from this earthly life of labor to his eternal life of reward.

In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death of one daughter, Diane Cox. He leaves to share memories of good times and even some challenging times his devoted wife, Juanita Jackson; his children, Larry, Tyrone and Kevin Cox, all of Harrisburg, Dennis Cox of York, Pennsylvania, Josephine Cox, Lurtica Jones and Beverly Grier, all of Harrisburg. Lloyd was blessed with thirty-one grandchildren, forty-seven great-grandchildren and nine great-great grandchildren who will all honor his legacy. His memory will also be cherished by a host of other relatives and friends.
