“ Hey Lorraine,

I just wanted to say "Happy Birthday." I didn't want to miss saying letting you know that I miss you, and I wish that you were still here in my life. I posted this video for you "I Hope You Dance," because that is wanted I wanted for you as opposed to you being worried about things that you could not change. You taught me a lot about life and how to get along with others, and I love and appreciate the kindness, gentleness and understanding that you taught me.

I love you you!!! and I miss you so much.

“ Lorraine, it is Thanksgiving Eve 2024 and as I sit here and think about you, and how you gathered your greens, sweet potatoes, roast chicken (because you did not like turkey, you said it was too dry), and your pies and cakes I have tears in my eyes. I miss you, and I am trying so hard to not be sad, but you were all I had. I know that you already know that the family is split apart, and there is nothing that I can do or say. I feel so bad, because my kids miss you too. But we will go on, but we will forever miss you.

I love you
