“ Ms. Sassy and family,

It is with a heavy heart that I cannot be there today to celebrate Nikki's life. When I moved to 16th street she was the first neighbor I met. We spent many days and evenings on the front porch eating something she decided to make or just chilling.

She had such a kind heart. She would decide to make some of her favorite macaroni and cheese, lord make you wanna slap you momma:) or that sea food gumbo..... I have many fond memories of her and I am glad we had thechance to meet and become friends. I will never forget her.

Keeping you all in prayer.

“ To the Moore family. May God give you peace during this difficult time. I am still in disbelief but I trust that God had a plan for Nikki. I learned only today that all these years of knowing her that she was actually named after one of my favorite poets (I never knew her middle name). Nikki Giovonni has a poem "I'm Not Lonely"...trust that our Nkki Giovonni is not lonely either. She has been greeted by a lot of our loved ones. Until that day when we all meet again, may God watch over her family.

“ Ms. Nikki....words cannot express how grateful I am to have called you a friend. Though time and circumstances distanced us, anytime we saw each other, it was like we never parted. You were and have always been a great friend to ALL you came in contact with...whether for an ear, a shoulder to lean on, a hug, or a laugh. We had many of each! I will cherish all the memories we shared around others, and our one on one time we spent being silly and/or laughing it up. I'll miss you but will turn on Luther or Gladys and you'll be right there with me. Watch over us all. Love you. Me
