

Mr. Rhahim Khalil Neely

August 18, 1986 - December 11, 2016

Rhahim, well known as “Scoobie,” was born August 18, 1986, in Harrisburg, PA, son of Derrick Smith and Leslie Jean Neely.

A graduate of Harrisburg High School, he attended Penn State University, Mount Alto, PA, and was employed by SYGMA, Harrisburg. He was the recipient of the ‘Who’s Who Honor,’ ‘Project Forward Leap,’ ‘Most Likely to Succeed’ (and he did just that), ‘Most Popular’ (always with grace and dignity), ‘Best Dressed’ (Oh my Yes!) and ‘Class Clown’ (an adult practical jokester right down to his end). Facebook roared like a lion speaking truths about how remarkable he was. Yep, Scoobie surely left his mark, and it will never depart from our hearts. Scoobie lived and loved life. Among his favorite pastimes were football, basketball, comedy, fashion, photography, music, traveling and spending time with the people he loved.

At the age of thirty, at the Harrisburg Hospital, Harrisburg, PA, Scoobie departed this life on Sunday, December 11, 2016, joining in eternal life his grandparents, Renee Smith, Alvertis Neely and Robert “Butch” Brown.

Scoobie is survived by his mother, Leslie J. Neely (fiancé, Jerome Britton); father, Derrick Smith (Donna); special beloved brother, William “Doobie” Pierce; brothers, Derrick Smith, Lawrence Bethea; his grandmother, Betty J. Baskerville; nieces, Shyteaira Nickens, Amilliana Pierce; nephew, Amarion Pierce; aunts, Sharon Harrison (Nate), Chinecia Smith (Eric), Joy Baskerville; godsons, Dwan Burton Jr., Joshua Bowles Jr.; as well as extended family and friends who will all miss Scoobie's smile and presence.
