

Roseann C. Roberts-Latimore

January 30, 1949 - December 23, 2025

Roseann Cora Latimore, affectionately known as “Dee Dee,” was born on January 30, 1949, to the late Fred Sr. and Blanche Roberts.

Roseann was raised in Steelton, Pennsylvania, in the community of South 4th Street. She was employed by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, beginning her career with the Department of Transportation and later working at the Department of Revenue, where she retired after 35 years of dedicated service. Throughout her tenure, she received many awards and commendations for superior customer service.

Roseann was an avid news buff, often keeping up with current events and politics more closely than most of her family. Roseann spent many years as an active member of Goodwin Memorial Baptist Church, where she faithfully served as a choir member. She followed many churches online across the country but found her spiritual solace with Wheeler Avenue Baptist Church in Houston, Texas.

She will be fondly remembered by her children’s friends as Ms. Dee Dee or Ms. Rose, and for her famous fried chicken and sloppy joes. Her home was a place where the neighborhood found hospitality and fellowship. All who gathered there received full-course, delectable meals, even on Saturdays.

Her grandchildren were the center of her joy. She supported them from their early years through college matriculation and loved having conversations about their lives, accomplishments, and aspirations. Roseann found happiness in sharing their successes with everyone she knew. Her hobby and joy of shopping evolved from in-store browsing to online shopping, and she had a gift for finding exactly what was needed, often resulting in a package arriving at your door before you even knew it was ordered.

On Tuesday, December 23, 2025, Roseann peacefully transitioned from time to eternity at UPMC Harrisburg Hospital. She is preceded in death by her parents and her brothers, Fred Roberts Jr., Leonard Roberts Sr., and Ronald Roberts.

She leaves cherished memories to her loving children, Sonya Costen (Stanley) of Fort Washington, Maryland; Martin Latimore Jr. (Stephanie) of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania; and Hope Latimore of Hershey, Pennsylvania; her chosen son, James Davis of Middletown Pennsylvania, and chosen daughter, Antoinette Trueitt of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania; her grandchildren, Brie Pierre (Marvin), Alexandra Costen, Victoria Costen, Brendan Latimore, Braelyn Latimore, and Kobe Beal; and one great-granddaughter, Aria Pierre; her siblings, Betty Reid of York, Pennsylvania, G. Alice Pinnock (Michael) and Ricky Roberts (Kathy), both of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, along with a host of nieces, nephews, and friends.

“ In Loving Memory of My Mom

Mommy,

I want to share how phenomenal you were. You named me "Hope" to signify great expectations, reflecting the hope you had to change your life around.

You often reminded me of the significance of my name and how to embrace those expectations. You instilled qualities in me that define who I am today. You taught me to be honest and true, not just with myself but also with others. You were always straightforward, making it clear that there was no gray area in life. I thank you for imparting that invaluable lesson.

More importantly, you allowed me to build a strong foundation with God and in my faith. You taught me to never waver because God is the same yesterday, today, and forevermore. You showed me that I never had to settle and always deserved the best because you raised the bar so high. You always said, "If they can't do more than me, then you don't need them." Lol

Even when my world felt shattered, you always found a way to put the pieces together, making me feel like anything is possible. Your strength and support were my anchor during tough times.

You made sure that my siblings and I always supported each other, creating a strong bond that guarantees I'm never navigating this world alone. Thank you for giving me life and for the hope you had to change your world!

As I move forward on this journey called LIFE, with you not physically here, your wisdom will guide me every step of the way, instilling great expectations.

I will miss you greatly! I find peace knowing that you're with the Lord. I will be forever grateful that God allowed me to be your Daughter and for you to be my phenomenal Mom.

I love you, and I promise to carry your spirit with me always!

*Your Sunshine,
Hope*
