

Mr. Travis Lamont Williams

February 18, 1974 - September 19, 2017

Life is but a stopping place. A pause in what's to be. A resting place along the road, to sweet eternity.

So as we celebrate the life of TRAVIS LAMONT WILLIAMS, family and friends wanted to capture just a glimpse of the fun and loving times. All of us are a work in progress. And Travis was a Christian that believed in the Power of Prayer. Not many knew how sickly Travis had become because he was a fighter, and trusted in God for total healing. His faith allowed him to love and help his family, friends, and even strangers. Travis never turned down an opportunity to bless others. Even when he didn't feel well, he asked for a few minutes and later gave a helping hand. Not many can say that they had childhood friends into their adult life. Travis' friends were his brothers. They were part of his family. And with that said, there were fights, laughs, fun times, low times (all the stuff that families go through) but at the end of the day, it was all love. To know him, you can agree that he enjoyed these three things: Keys, Cars, and Women. Turn to your neighbor and say AMEN!! Travis found cooking therapeutic. He would wake up in the middle of the night cooking wonderful meals for his love ones to enjoy like his famous meatloaf, homemade pizza, and more. Travis was the only person that didn't know he was spoiled. He was a momma's boy and daddy's boy. He loved his parents! He was a lovable Dad, Son, Brother, Uncle, Cousin, and Friend. "Tra," as called by many, will forever be missed.

TRAVIS LAMONT WILLIAMS, age forty-three of Harrisburg, PA, was born on February 18, 1974. Travis transitioned into eternal life on September 19, 2017. He leaves to celebrate his life, his father Lester Pope (Nadine King); his mother, Juanita Williams, all of Harrisburg, PA; all of his children, Travia Williams, Elijah Williams, Lashae Griffin, Johnae Williams, Anyae Williams, Jhosiah Maddox-Jackson, Travis Williams Jr., Jhaion Maddox-Jackson, Brooklyn Williams, all of Harrisburg, PA; his siblings, Renita Mason of Virginia, Monica King of Georgia, Keshia Brooks (Linard Brooks), Nina King, Martise Scott (Trisha Scott), all of Harrisburg, PA.; and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, and dear friends who will miss him dearly.

Gone but never forgotten!

Lovingly Submitted by the Family

“ I'll miss you Tra. You're one cool brother to have. We didn't see one another much but when we did it was like nothing was missed. You never made it to Atlanta to see me, but I guess you can make it now. My condolences to all the friends and our family. It's been weird being in town and no one has told me that your looking for me or you were just by the house asking for me. Or you calling telling me where to be and what time I should be there to see you. Lol. Man, this is really going to be hard, but I understand. Love you, but I wasn't ready.

“ From the village of South 15 the St. We will always Cherish our fond memories of Travis Lamont Williams. As we did for so many years Travis was always instrumental in helping us to set up for our annual Block Parties and myself along with Buzzy, Amanda and Tracy would begin to block off the street we could always count on Travis to pull out his big speakers and play music until the DJ would arrive as well as cut hair of all the children in our community for free and always get smart with us if we would ask him to move a table for us. His reply would always be don't you see I'm busy I have just as much to do as yaw do now leave me alone and let me get finished. These are the types of Good memories we should always hold on to and cherish. Rest On Travis until we see each other again.
Respectfully Submitted The Old Village Of South 15th St. Always In Our Prayers.
